

Teacher of the Month
April 2004

Rebecca Moles – Claremont Elementary School

The selection committee respectfully requests that Rebecca Moles, kindergarten teacher at Claremont Elementary, be named as Teacher of the Month for April 2004. Rebecca is a graduate of Radford University. She has taught in Pulaski County Public Schools for three years and has been at Claremont for two years.

Rebecca has distinguished herself as a caring and nurturing individual who finds ways of bringing out the best in every child. She goes out of her way to make her students feel safe and loved. One parent in particular praised her for sending her son a get well card from the class and visiting him while in the hospital. This parent also shared that when they were on the way to the hospital, she asked her son if there is anyone he would like to call to make him feel better. He chose to call his teacher, Ms. Moles.

Rebecca always has a smile on her face and a good word for her colleagues. She has endless energy and enthusiasm. She is an outstanding teacher who works hard to make sure that all her students are well prepared to move on to first grade. She even finds time to participate in Claremont's after school program.

Ms. Moles' contributions to Claremont Elementary's students, staff and parents reflect great credit on her and Pulaski County Public Schools.
