

Teacher of the Month
March 2007

Erin Wigginton – Pulaski County High School

The selection committee respectfully requests that Ms. Erin Wigginton, social studies teacher at Pulaski County High School, be named as Teacher of the Month for March 2007. Erin is a graduate of VA Tech and has been in public education for twenty (20) years. Prior to coming to Pulaski County Public Schools she taught in Henry and Greensville Counties.

Ms. Wigginton has distinguished herself as a professional with a special ability to make learning challenging and fun. She not only teaches her assigned classes, but also extends her teaching day through mentoring, and advising students.

Ms. Wigginton was nominated by several of her colleagues. They mention that Erin is a National Board Certified Teacher who is dedicated to helping every student achieve success. She always plans challenging in class projects that focus on higher level thinking skills. Erin goes above and beyond by meeting with students on her “own time” to make sure they understand material. She models life-long learning for both students and colleagues and is a highly successful presenter for staff development. Erin is an outstanding professional who represents all educators with pride and quality.

Ms. Erin Wigginton’s contributions to Pulaski County High School students, staff and parents reflect great credit on herself, our profession, and the Pulaski County Public Schools.
