

Teacher of the Month
February 2010

Nicole Watson - Snowville Elementary

The selection committee respectfully requests that Mrs. Nicole Watson be named Teacher of the Month for February 2010. Mrs. Watson is a fifth (5th) grade teacher at Snowville Elementary School, with three (3) years of dedicated service to Pulaski County Public Schools. Mrs. Watson received her bachelor's degree from Radford University.

Mrs. Watson was nominated by the parents of one of her current students. Her nominators stated that she is a "terrific teacher" who develops creative ways of challenging her students. They stated that Mrs. Watson's style of teaching is not only challenging, but "fun and exciting as well." They also noted her efforts to make each child feel special through individualized activities and recognition.

Mrs. Watson's dedication to her students, colleagues and education is a credit to herself, her profession, and her school system.
