

Virginia Celebrates School Psychology Week, November 4-8 Thursday, November 7, 2002

Pulaski County Public Schools salutes our team of school psychologists as part of a statewide celebration of School Psychology Week.

School psychologists work with parents, educators, and other professionals to provide the safest, healthiest, and most supportive environment for our children to learn in. Pictured below is our PCPS team of psychologists who provide a full range of psychological services to the county's eleven schools.

To learn more about school psychologists, visit the National Association of School Psychologists website.

Pulaski County Public Schools Team of School Psychologists

Seated is Ann T. Benson with Radford University Intern Jamison McGlothlin. Standing from left is Stephen Hale and Dan Butler